

Free Webinars

Medway Educational Child and Community Psychology Service will be running more free webinars in June, following the positive response to those presented in May.

These accessible, bite-size sessions will be practical and psychology-informed. They will consist of 30-minute talks, followed by short question and answer sessions on:

Resilience and Positive Psychology

4pm on Thursday 11th June

Emotionally Based School Avoidance and Coronavirus

4pm on Monday 15th June

Supporting Emotions Through Play

2pm on Thursday 25th June

If you would like to attend any of these webinars, please nominate a member of staff to liaise with us. Please email us at education.psychology@medway.gov.uk to let us know which ones you are interested in. A link will then be sent two days in advance, which can also be passed to other interested members of staff within your setting.

Future topics to include:

Transition from one setting to another
